

SENSATION
SEEKERS OUTTo Hear Abe Hummel Testify
in the Thaw Case

OF MRS. THAW'S RELATIONS

With Jack Barrymore, the Actor—Hummel Was on Stand but a Few Minutes, and Gave Way to James C. Smith, Temporarily.

New York, March 13.—The sensation-hungry were pleased this morning when the first witness called for the Thaw trial was Abe Hummel, the disbarred divorce attorney, who is expected to reveal startling facts concerning the relations of Evelyn Thaw and Jack Barrymore, the actor, and who drew up an alleged statement, in which Evelyn charged Thaw with cruelty. But after a few minutes, Hummel was temporarily excused to allow James C. Smith to return to the stand.

The counsel began bickering at once. Delmas showed by his questions his intention of fighting to have all of Smith's testimony thrown out, although he made no such motion at this time. Smith testified that he returned to New York in response to a telegram from Jerome, reading, as nearly as he can remember, "Your evidence most important. Your presence desired."

Hummel then returned to the chair, and Jerome renewed his fight to get in Evelyn's affidavit.

Jerome Gets Angry.

As the last witness of the day, yesterday, the district attorney called Rudolph Eckmyer, the photographer, who took the pictures of Evelyn Nesbit Thaw which have been introduced in evidence. The photographer was employed by Stanford White. He had no sooner been sworn than it developed that Eckmyer was also employed by White to make the photographic copy of the affidavit Evelyn Nesbit is said to have made in Abraham Hummel's office. Mr. Eckmyer identified the negatives made from the affidavit but they were not shown in evidence. Mr. Jerome next tried to have the photographer fix the dates of certain pictures for which Evelyn Nesbit posed, hoping thus to establish the day she says she had the experience with White in the 24th street house.

Mr. Delmas objected on the ground that the evidence tended to contradict Mrs. Thaw's story, and was not permissible. Mr. Jerome said that he desired to take advantage of the waiver Mr. Delmas had made at the beginning of the trial in regard to rebutting Mrs. Thaw's story.

"If you will let me fix the date of these pictures," he said, "I will show that on the night following the day they were taken, when Mrs. Thaw says she was ruined, Stanford White was not in the 24th street house at all."

Mr. Jerome fairly shouted the last words and pointed the table before him. Mr. Delmas said he must stand upon his objection, and it was sustained. He then moved that "the district attorney's improper remarks, to which he has given much emphasis of voice and gesture," be stricken from the records.

Mr. Jerome retorted by asking the court to instruct the jury that the alleged ravishment or non-ravishment of Evelyn Nesbit had nothing whatever to do with the case.

Justice Fitzgerald merely admonished the jury to pay no heed to remarks of counsel addressed to the court, and to confine themselves strictly to the evidence.

It was after this conflict of counsel that the agreement as to the closing stages of the case was reached. Mr. Jerome said he would introduce as witnesses today Abraham Hummel and his stenographer. Then, if his plans carried out, the testimony of three experts, Drs. Austin Flint, Carlos MacDonald and William Mahon. It was agreed that after the defense has presented its rebuttal, each side shall have one clear day for the summing up. The charge of the court will follow, and the consideration of the evidence by the jury.

The experts' evidence will not be reached before Thursday, and, figuring upon the disposal of one day, the last of the trial will not be examined until Monday next. The defense will probably occupy the remainder of next week with rebuttal, and the summing up will probably begin Monday, March 25. That would bring the charge to the jury on Wednesday, the 27th.

MARRIES IN HASTE.

Colorado Man Doesn't Wait For Burial of His First Wife.

Denver, Col., March 13.—I had my little boy on my hands without a home or a mother's care, and decided that it was only justice to him that I should get a home for him," is the excuse given by Ernest O. Linton for marrying again while the dead body of his first wife lay still unburied at the undertaker's establishment. The boy is only 8 years old. Wife No. 2 was a Mrs. Carrie Willison.

Linton says that he made arrangements for the funeral of his first wife, but the undertaker contradicted him. The woman had been dead only 32 hours when Linton married again.

Hartford, Conn., March 13.—William F. Walker, the defaulting treasurer in the Savings bank of New Britain, was indicted by the grand jury yesterday on a charge of embezzlement, forgery and uttering forged documents. Some of the forged checks are for crimes alleged to have been committed as far back as 1905 when Walker is said to have manipulated the funds of the Bank. The state convention of which he was treasurer.

WOMAN "CALLED" FOR
"PROPHET" DOWIE'S JOB

Rich "Angel" in Vision Says She Has Been Called to the Place of the Former Zion City Leader.

Chicago, Ill., March 13.—The prophet is dead; hail to the prophet! Dowie is barely cold in his coffin when another apostle of Zion arises—this one in Zion City itself—to further the cause brought by the death of the First Prophet of the cult. Between the funeral and the hierarchical tangle, the religionists are in a frenzy.

Mrs. G. L. Colman is the latest to see things and make trouble. She says she had a vision in which the Angel directed her to go to Shiloh Tabernacle and proclaim aloud that they were being deceived. She predicts a terrible calamity in Zion if its people do not mend their ways and renounce the worldliness to which Mrs. Colman declares they are returning.

Mrs. Colman is the wife of C. L. Colman, a retired merchant of Zurich, Switzerland, who is in Europe. Mrs. Colman joined the Zion City religionists two years ago. She is said to have a magnificent home in Zurich, as well as a home in California. One of the present plans is to conduct a series of mother's meetings in Zion.

AGED WOMEN FOUND
NEAR DEATH FROM COLD

Mrs. Nellie E. Sablin of Windsor, Aged 75 Years, Fell Down and Broke Her Hip—Pneumonia Is Feared.

Windsor, March 13.—As Tony Bianchi was going by Mrs. Nellie E. Sablin's kitchen yesterday morning about 6:30 to feed his horse, his attention was attracted by rapping on the window. He found Mrs. Sablin lying upon the floor with a broken hip and nearly dead from the cold.

Mrs. Sablin, who is over 75 years old and lives alone, got up to fix the fire about midnight, and in some way stumbled and fell upon her hip. She was hardly able to crawl out into the hallway, where she secured a wrap to put over herself, and then she lay there all morning, hoping to attract the attention of some passerby, the fire in the meantime going out.

Dr. J. D. Brewster was called, but did not see the limb, and it is feared that pneumonia will develop on account of the exposure.

WOMAN KILLED HERSELF.

Found Dead in Room She Had Hired With Young Man.

New York, March 13.—A young woman believed to have been Ida Decker, 23 years old, of Chatham, N. Y., was found dead from inhaling illuminating gas in a furnished room house in Brooklyn yesterday. It is believed that she committed suicide. The body was identified by the superintendent of a type setting machine company to whom the young woman applied for work Monday.

Miss Decker had been at the house only since yesterday. She went there accompanied by a young man, and, after engaging the room, the couple went out, saying they were going to a theatre. When the girl returned late last night she was alone and the police now are searching for her companion.

On the girl's body the police found a locket containing a small photograph of the man who accompanied her to the house. She also wore several rings, one of them a wedding ring. A traveling bag found in the room contained a quantity of clothing of fine quality.

AN INSANE MAN
SHOT HIS FATHER

Irving T. Peckham Then Went Up Stairs and Committed Suicide—Was Suffering From Insanity.

Auburn, R. I., March 13.—While suffering from insanity, Irving T. Peckham, superintendent of the Glenarek knitting mill of Woonsocket, shot and seriously injured his father, Samuel Q. Peckham, here last night, and afterwards committed suicide. Both men have been prominent in the Rhode Island textile industry.

The tragedy occurred at 496 Pontiac avenue, where the Peckhams lived. Last evening Irving returned home as usual. At the time of his arrival, his father was in the kitchen repairing a chair and did not notice Irving's approach through the hall.

The son drew a revolver and shot his father in the back of the head before the latter was aware of his danger. The bullet entered the head, passing through the brain, and was unable to defend himself. The son fired five more shots, one of which entered the lower jaw of the victim. Young Peckham then rushed upstairs and, as it afterwards developed, shot himself through the head, death occurring apparently instantaneously.

Irving's father tottered to the front door of the dwelling and feebly called for assistance. A farm hand named Swan Anderson, who was passing, rushed across the street, but before he reached Peckham the latter fell head foremost onto the piazza. Peckham told neighbors who were summoned by Anderson that his son had shot him, while insane, and had gone upstairs. The older Peckham then lost consciousness. He was removed to the Rhode Island hospital at Providence, where the surgeons pronounced his condition critical.

Policeman Edward Legacy and half a dozen citizens, not knowing that young Peckham had killed himself, laid plans for his capture. They supposed that Irving in his insane frenzy had reached his revolver and would use it against any person attempting to arrest him.

There will be a regular meeting of the clerks' union this evening at 7:30. Among arrivals at the City hotel today are F. B. Pratt, H. S. Huntress, G. W. Moxley, A. C. Lanson, and F. W. Whittemore, Boston; J. B. Brewster, A. W. Nichols, New York.

IDENTIFIED

Of Victims of Battleship Destruction at Toulon

DEATH LIST IS ABOUT 100

Many of the Crew Were on Shore Leave and Thus the Casualty List Was Not High As Expected—Ship Complete Wreck.

Toulon, March 13.—After an investigation today officers say that the French battleship Tenacity will be probably a total loss. There are no accurate figures yet as to the number of dead. Eighty-two bodies have been identified. Fragments of many more were gathered up along the wharf. At noon it seemed certain that the death list would reach a hundred. Approximately a hundred are in the hospital. Nine expired there today, and many more cannot live.

The fact that the crew consisted of 700 men gave rise to the belief that several hundred had been killed. It was found later that many were on shore leave and thus escaped.

An orderly of Rear Admiral Maneron, who was out, bruised and bloodstained, gave the following recital of his experiences:

"Rear Admiral Maneron's quarters are above the magazine. I was in the dining room when the first shock occurred. The quarters were at once filled with acrid fumes and choking smoke. I rushed to the rear admiral's cabin, where he sat awaiting his coffee. I saw that he was wounded and I shouted to him to run. After that I don't know what happened. I lost my senses and did not regain consciousness until the rescuers found me."

Captain Verrier occupied a cabin near the after turret of the magazine. Immediately after the explosion he tried to get out, but the door of his cabin was blocked with debris and the only means of exit was impassable. The flames then broke out, and Capt. Verrier died a horrible death. After the fire had been extinguished the rescuers found his incinerated remains, as well as the terribly burnt corpses of several other officers who were caught in the after cabin. (Two midshipmen were killed outright, and the others attached to the Tenacity think that everybody who was below at the time of the explosion undoubtedly was asphyxiated by the deadly fumes from the magazines, particularly from the combustion of "B" powder.)

BITTER FELT SUIT ENDED.

Plaintiff Throws Up Sponge and Defendant Keeps $2 Skin.

Brattleboro, March 13.—After spending all day in working to select a jury, the plaintiff in the case of A. L. Miner vs. George T. Miller, both of Guilford (a fight over a fox pelt), threw up the sponge and agreed to withdraw his complaint and let each party in the litigation settle his own costs. Each one has spent several times the value of the skin and the case stands with the defendant keeping the fox skin, which is worth about $2.

The case has been going for three weeks. When first tried, the jury stood evenly divided between a verdict for the plaintiff and one for the defendant. At the first trial fox-hunters were present from all over the county and from Massachusetts and New Hampshire, the question involved being as to the ownership of a wounded animal.

CALLED POLICE OVER TRIPLETS.

New York Man Was Only Prepared For One.

New York, March 13.—"Triplets" was the excited reply Sergt. Donahue received over the telephone at the Bronx police station early yesterday morning when he asked why an ambulance was wanted at 1039 East Thirty-eighth street. An ambulance was sent from Lincoln hospital in a hurry and Dr. Kaufman found John Freeman and his wife Mary and three new-born infants, two girls and a boy.

"I had prepared for one," said the husband, "but there are three, I guess my wife should go to the hospital."

Mrs. Freeman and the babies were taken there and later one of the girls died. The other two will live.

AGAINST THOMAS

Brattleboro Sportsmen Say That He Secures Legislation to Favor Northern Towns Against Southern Towns.

Brattleboro, March 13.—The annual meeting of the Windham County Fish and Game Protective association was held here yesterday afternoon and evening at the Brooks house. In the afternoon the matter of stocking streams was discussed and State Fish and Game Commissioner H. G. Thomas of Stowe was severely criticised in his attempt to secure legislation in favor of the towns in the northern part of the state and against the towns in the southern part of the state.

The following officers were elected: President, Dr. R. S. Elmer, Bellows Falls; secretary, E. J. Planier, Bellows Falls; vice-presidents, R. C. Bacon, Brattleboro; M. J. Hovey, South Londonderry; treasurer, A. H. Chandler, Bellows Falls; executive committee, G. W. Pierce, Brattleboro; W. H. Ray, Bellows Falls; A. E. Cudworth, Londonderry.

After the business meeting the company adjourned to the Brooks house dining room where a 16-course dinner was served. The post-prandial exercises were conducted by President Elmer. Many talked on the way the game has been protected by the association. The association has offered a reward of $10 to any game warden catching a person illegally killing deer. The report of the treasurer showed that there was a balance of $375.25 on hand.

MISSING SINCE MARCH 4.

Joseph Emond of Burlington Leaves Wife and Three Children.

Burlington, March 13.—Joseph Emond of 42 Hayward street has been missing from his home since March 4 and his wife and three small children, two girls and a boy, know nothing of his whereabouts. Three weeks ago Mr. Emond sent his wife and children to St. Edmund, Que., to visit her parents, and when she returned a week ago, her husband was missing. Friends have told Mrs. Emond that her husband was seen on the streets March 4, but since that time he has not been at his work or at the home of his parents in Montreal.

Mr. Emond is 38 years of age and has been employed by the Horatio Hilecock company for 15 years. He is peckmarked and usually wears a gray suit, black overcoat and black derby hat. He also wears glasses, was of heavy build and of medium height.

"I have no idea where my husband is, or why he should leave his home without letting me know of his whereabouts. I have telephoned to the home of his parents in Montreal, and they say he has not been there. At first I thought he was drowned, but since hearing about the thickness of the ice, I have given up that idea. There is nothing I can do now, but wait."

POSSIBLE MURDER
IN A MAINE FIRE

Bodies of Two Men Found in Ruins of Maine State Fish Hatchery—Suicide May Also Figure in It.

Greenville, Me., March 13.—That the fire which destroyed the state fish hatchery building at Squaw brook on Moosehead lake Monday, was deliberately set to obliterate traces of a murder and suicide, was the theory formed by the Piscataquis county officials, after a thorough search of the ruins yesterday.

Two bodies were found in the ruins, one of which was positively identified as that of Arthur Hersey, 45 years old, who last week was raised from a helpless to a superintendent, superseding A. W. Kilbuck, who was a man between 60 and 65 years old.

The other body is believed to be that of Wilkins. In the back of the skull on Hersey's body the investigators found a hole, believed to have been made by a bullet. Near the body, supposed to be that of Wilkins, was a revolver containing five empty shells. The firing of Wilkins' trunk and the remains of his watch were found near the house.

The officials hold the theory that Wilkins' mind had been affected by his removal from his position and that he shot Hersey while the latter was working in the hatchery building, and then barred the fire which destroyed the hatchery and stable, after which he went to his chamber and committed suicide.

The coroner's inquest was unfinished at the close of the afternoon session, and adjournment was taken until evening. Dr. H. H. Hovey, who performed a post-mortem examination of Hersey's body, found a bullet had entered the head at the top, passed through the brain and out through the skull, lodging inside the skull. Dr. Hatch stated that the direction of the bullet indicated that the wound was not made by Hersey, but some person standing over him while he was bending over one of the fish beds.

Wilkins' body was so badly burned that the physician was unable to determine the location of the bullet wound. The evidence seemed to bear out the opinion of the official that Wilkins killed Hersey and then committed suicide. Two letters sent out by Hersey's son Monday were intercepted at the post-office. They were directed to Wilkins' wife and daughter, and contained no reference to the impending tragedy, but contained a small amount of money for the daughter.

Burlington, March 13.—William Hunt of Essex Junction, who was indicted by the grand jury yesterday for manslaughter in connection with the death of John Earley, an aged man, was admitted to bail in $1,000 today in Chittenden county court. The bail was furnished by his parents.

Earley was struck by a team in which Hunt was an occupant just at dusk one evening several weeks ago. The old gentleman was walking in the road and apparently did not hear the approaching team. Dr. F. A. Rich, Member of Old Board of Cattle Commissioners, Is Fined $300 For His Negligence.

Burlington, March 13.—Dr. F. A. Rich, of Burlington, one of the former state cattle commissioners indicted with the other members at the September term of the Chittenden county court, for neglect of official duty, pleaded guilty yesterday in county court to two counts in the indictment. Judge Hall thereupon imposed a fine of $300 and costs. The indictment for "neglect of official duty" was in connection with the sale of condemned cattle.

The Consolidated Rendering company yesterday paid the fines of $3,000 imposed Monday on their plea of guilty to 34 counts in four indictments.

The five indictments against L. F. Brigham, manager of the Burlington Rendering company, were not pressed yesterday. The indictments against Mr. Brigham were identical with those of the Rendering company and were brought by the grand jury to safeguard the state's interests.

RECEIVER APPOINTED FOR ELECTRIC ROAD

Mr. Mansfield Company Now in Hands of C. E. Burt of Stowe, Acting for the American Trust Company.

Stowe, March 13.—Charles E. Burt of this village yesterday qualified as receiver of the Mt. Mansfield Electric railway, the American Trust company, holder of a mortgage on the property, having brought in a petition for foreclosure. The road will be operated as heretofore, with Mr. Burt as its manager.

The Mt. Mansfield Electric railway extends from Waterbury to Stowe, a distance of 11 miles, and runs through a line of a leasing proposition have been in circulation for some time.

When it was constructed the town of Stowe furnished $40,000. The appointment of a receiver is taken in some quarters to mean the ultimate extension of the road to Morrisville, a distance of eight miles, which it is believed would make the property a good financial investment. This may be effected by a new company taking over the road, or by a thorough reorganization.

CHILD ATE POISON.

Small Flow of Sap.

Enosburgh, March 13.—A few farmers have begun to tap their sugar trees, but as yet there has been small flow of sap. The ground has frozen to such a depth that a great deal of trouble is being experienced with broken water pipes. Pipes that have never frozen before have been reached this winter by the frost. Many farmers are obliged to draw water from the brooks to water their cattle on account of the water pipes being frozen.

ACCUSE FIVE MEN OF VOTING ILLEGALLY

Twenty-five Middlesex Voters Protest to Assistant Judges Against Appointment of License Commissioners and Are Turned Down.

Twenty-five citizens of Middlesex have petitioned Assistant Judges L. R. Wells and C. M. Wigh, protesting against the appointment of license commissioners in Middlesex on the ground that the vote declaring the town as a license community was illegal. These petitioners name the men who they claim voted illegally. The men are John E. Quinn, Matthew Quinn, James Quinn and Perley L. Wilbur, all alleged to be residents of Montpelier, and not entitled to vote in the Middlesex town meeting. A fifth man who is said to be a petitioner to have voted illegally is Will C. Hamblitt, alleged to be a resident of the town of Worcester. The petition says that the signers of it have reason to believe that all the five men voted "Yes."

Furthermore, the assertion is made that the ballot of George Willey, a Middlesex voter, did not appear in the box. It is alleged that he voted "No." It is further stated that there were 65 "Yes" votes, 64 "No," two blank ballots and one with a "Yes" which had been crossed out. The petitioners aver that the wish of the majority of the voters of Middlesex was thwarted.

Judges Wells and Wigh refused to have anything to do with the petition on the ground that they did not feel justified to go back of the returns recorded in the town clerk's office. The result will be that when the license commissioners are appointed, an injunction will be asked for to prevent licensees from selling liquor.

A NEW BLOCK FOR MAIN ST.

Will be Erected at Corner of Pearl Street This Summer

PLANS NOW BEING MADE

A. Ginberg Will Add Barre to the Chain of Cities in Which He Has Stores—Aldrich Library Will Probably Be Built Also.

Among the buildings to be erected in this city the coming summer will be a business block on the vacant lot at the corner of North Main and Pearl streets. The building will be erected by L. Ginberg of New York, who purchased the land last fall and who is now in Barre making arrangements for beginning the work as soon as possible. This lot was occupied by the old Sheplee & Jones block, which was burned to the ground, together with the three-story Currier building, five years ago, entailing a total loss of $200,000. Another structure was raised on the Currier lot, but the Sheplee & Jones property had lain idle ever since.

Mr. Ginberg is in consultation with architect Frank A. Walker in regard to plans, and as soon as the specifications are completed so that contractors can make estimates, the contract will be awarded. The present intentions of the owner are to erect a building of three floors, one of which will be below ground, after the manner of construction in the larger cities, but if he receives assurances that another story would be utilized by a lodge or for offices, he is perfectly willing to build high. He has been in communication with several parties who desire to rent quarters such as would be afforded in the new building, but no arrangements have been made. Three of the floors Mr. Ginberg will himself occupy with a large department store. The new building will be erected, the builder thinks, in the neighborhood of $25,000. It will have solid brick walls and will be constructed after modern lines in every way. The underground floor will be as good for business purposes as the street floor, being nine feet from floor to ceiling.

It is planned to have the building ready for occupancy next fall, at which time Mr. Ginberg will open for business, carrying all the lines of a complete department store with the exception of groceries, furniture and hardware. This will
